

NQIP Mentor training

We are now accepting applications for NELFT 3rd QI Mentor training course!

This is an exciting opportunity to help shape the future of quality improvement within NELFT.

What does this entail ?

This 5 day course will be delivered over a 6 month period and will include 1 x full day and 4 x ½ day training sessions with a graduation on Day 6. The course is open to all bands and all profession of staff within NELFT.

The course includes three components:

- Developing advanced QI skills
- Experiential learning by mentoring one of the participants on the current NQIP Facilitators cohort 10 programme (alongside a QI team member)

Who can apply?

You will need to be a qualified QI Facilitator within NELFT

Commitment required

We ask for a commitment from you and your manager in terms of the time involved in completing the course. In return, you will have access to support and materials to help deepen your knowledge of quality improvement and the opportunity to develop your mentoring skills by mentoring a facilitator who is undertaking a quality improvement project as part of the current NQIP Facilitators cohort 10 programme, under the supervision of an existing QI mentor.

Upon completion of the course, you will become a QI mentor at NELFT. You will continue to mentor 2 facilitators per year in order to keep your knowledge and skills up to date. Our expectation is that you will be involved in the other NQIP training programmes and to support some of the monthly QI clinics to offer support and advice to staff undertaking a QI project. This is negotiable depending on your availability.

We do ask that you attend ALL training sessions and keep a reflective journal of your personal development and learning from mentoring sessions along this journey.
